SPECIAL VENIRE IS EXHAUSTED

Forty-Five Talesmen are Examined
Before Jury is Obtained in Far-
low Arson Case

OPENING STATEMENT MADE

State Will Attempt to Prove Defend-
and Fired Barn on the Joseph
Farlow Farm

The case of the State against John D. Farlow of near Milroy, charged with arson, got started today in the circuit court, and the jury was not obtained until 2:30 this afternoon, after 45 talesmen had been examined for service.

Each side exhausted their number of opportunities to excuse jurors, and several were excused on challenges. Considerable interest was being displayed in the case today.

The prosecuting witness in the case is Clifford Power, a tenant on the Joseph Farlow farm. According to the affidavit on which the defendant is being tried, it is charged that on July 16, 1922, in the nighttime, he set fire to the barn, and that it was extinguished without loss.

The state also will attempt to prove according to Prosecutor Stevens in his opening statement that the defendant was shot with a shotgun fired as he stood in the doorway of the barn, after it was supposed that he was returning to set fire to the barn again.

The arrest was made by members of the Anderson township branch of the Rush County Horse Thief Detective Association, which will take an active part in the prosecution of the case, it was stated.

Several attorneys have been hired to assist the state, including A. L. Gary John A. Tisworth and Douglas Morris, of this city, who will assist Prosecutor Stevens and Sherman Davis, an attorney in the State Fire Marshal's office.

The defense is represented in the matter by Gates Ketchum and Donald L. Smith of this city. Rollin Turner of Greensburg also may assist before the case is completed, but he was unable to be present today on account of illness.

The case is being heard before Judge John C. Craig of Greensburg and it may require several days for trial.

TAKES HAND IN TEXAS SENATORIAL MUDDLE

Pres. Harding Commends Republican Chairmen for Coming to id-
of Independent Democrats

KU KLUX KLAN IS INVOLVED

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 23—President Harding today entered the Texas senatorial muddle.

A letter from the chief executive to R. B. Creager, state Republican chairman, was made public, in which Mr. Harding commended Texas Republican chairmen for coming to the aid of independent Democrats in a concentrated fight "against all grouping of classes and attending dictation, which is contrary to American ideals."

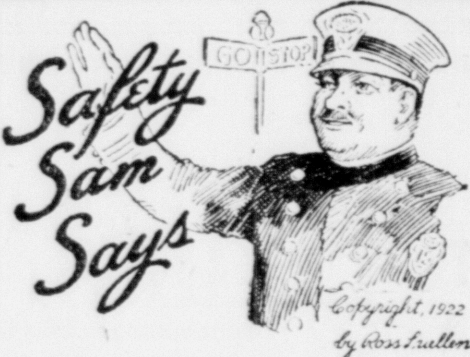

Creager recently returned from Washington where he conferred with leading Republicans concerning the candidacy of George E. B. Peddy, 30 year old lawyer who was chosen by anti-Ku Klux Klan Democrats and adopted by the Texas G. O. P., to oppose Earle B. Mayfield, Demo- cratic nominee. Mayfield, it is al- leged, was backed by the invisible empire in the primary battles.

An entanglement of litigation now holds the name of each of the sena- torial aspirants off the official bal- lot

JUDGE UPHOLDS DAUGHERTY RULING

Overrules Application for Injunction
Against Order Filed by Steam-
ship Companies

WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT

Opponents of Order Claim it Unconstitutional and Invasion of Rights
of Foreign Countries

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 23.—Judge Learned Hand today upheld the Daugherty ruling, forbidding ships from bringing liquor into American ports, in his decision on the application of steamship companies for injunction against enforcement of the decree.

The application for the injunction was made by the White Star Line, Cunard Line, anchor line and others. The companies announced after ruling they would carry their case to the supreme court of the United States.

The companies, in their arguments to the court, claimed the Daugherty ruling was not only in violation to the constitution of the United States but an invasion of the rights of foreign countries.

In his decision Judge Hand said: "The discussion of a law of the United States especially a law in execution of a constitution amend- ment, is of itself an irreparable in- jury which no judge has the right to ignore. The public purposes, which the law was intended to execute, have behind them the deep convic- tion of thousands of persons who should not be thwarted in what they conceive to be for the public good."

"No reparation is possible if it is. Furthermore, it is at best, a delicate matter for a judge to tie the hands of other public officers in the execution of their duties as they under- stand them, and the books are full of admonitions against doing so, except in a very clear case."

"Here not only is a case not clear, but so far as I can judge, plaintiffs have no case. Therefore, I will go no further than to issue an injunction against interfering with the carriage of a stock necessary for the crew's rations on the east bound voyage. Plaintiffs must each

FIND PINT OF CORN WHISKEY

Police Raid Home of Charley Sweet
Who is Arrested

Charley Sweet was arrested Sunday afternoon at his home in the western part of the city, following a raid by officers, in which it is charged that a pint of corn whiskey was found. The defendant was placed in jail, and a charge of un- lawful possession was filed against him in the circuit court. The raid was made by Police Chief Black- burn, Constable John Wolter and Prosecutor Stevens.

It was expected that the defend- ant would be arraigned this afternoon in the court before Judge Sparks, in an effort to secure release on bond. A barn, said by the police to be rented by Alpheus Taylor, also was searched, but nothing found.

BONAR LAW TAKES OFFICE TONIGHT

New British Premier Will Succeed
Lloyd George, Who Has Head-
ed Government Six Years

TELLS KING GEORGE FORMALLY

Bonar Law Announces He Will Accept Responsibility—Dissolution
of Parliament Thursday

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 23.—Bonar Law suc- ceeds Lloyd George as prime min- ister of Great Britain this evening.

Law formally announced to King George that he would accept the re- sponsibility of heading the govern- ment which succeeds the coalition of Lloyd George.

The out-going premier visited his magistrate to say farewell and turned over to his successor the seals of the office, which he has held for six years.

This marks the end of the coali- tion government which came into being during the war and which was sponsored by both Liberals and Unionists.

It was officially stated that Pre- mier Bonar Law would announce the names of the personnel of his cabi- net tomorrow. The dissolution of parliament will precipitate a general election Thursday.

In keeping with tradition, the re- tiring premier has made up a list of statesmen he will ask the crown to honor.

It is understood that Lloyd George will recommend an earldom for Lord Birkenhead and a dukedom for Lord Curzon, two of the most prom- inent in the outgoing cabinet.

Lloyd George last night gave a farewell dinner to his supporters at 10 Downing street at which his po- litical future was fully discussed.

Winston Churchill, colonial min- ister in the late cabinet, issued a statement from his sick bed in which he declared he would support the liberals and co-operate with the pro- gressive conservatives.

The manifesto was addressed to the liberals at Dundee where Churchill is to stand in the general elec- tions for parliament.

LARGE BARN ON THE NORRIS FARM BURNS

Fire of Unknown Origin Causes Loss
of Several Thousand Dollars
Sunday Afternoon

ORIGIN IS NOT KNOWN

A large stock and grain barn on the W. A. Norris farm, seven miles southeast of Rushville, was de- stroyed by fire Sunday afternoon about two o'clock and the origin of the blaze was a complete mystery. The loss amounted to several thou- sand dollars, with only a small per- centage of the loss being covered with insurance.

Mr. Norris was away from home at the time, and his son Franklin was the only one near. People pass- ing by in an automobile gave the alarm, but the barn was enveloped in flames when discovered.

The loss includes 60 tons of hay, 150 bushels of oats, a consignment of wool, all kinds of harness and other articles. The stock in the building was saved.

The theory was advanced today that possibly the insane man who was captured on the Amos farm Friday night, and escaped from the poor farm, might have been in the vicinity, and farmers should notify the officers if a strange acting man is seen.

SHOWS TAXES FOR 1923 WILL BE LESS

Comparison of Amounts Paid by Leading Taxpayers in Each Township This Year and Next

RATES HIGHER, REVENUE LESS

Sum to be Raised for County in 1923 $28,300 Less and State Revenue Reduced $10,000

A study in taxes has been pre- pared to show that the average per- son will pay less next year than they did this year, even though the tax rates are higher in nearly every township of the county.

As has been explained before, the higher levies were due to decreased valuations for next year, especially on farm land and improvements, but the estimated expenditures for the coming calendar year, which actual- ly determines the amount of taxes to be paid, are less in every taxing unit, with a few exceptions.

Approximately $10,000 less will be raised in Rush county for all state purposes next year and for county purposes there will be a decrease of $28,300 in revenue raised by taxa- tion during the year 1923.

All taxable property of the coun- ty is assessed for taxation purpo- ses this year at 64 and a half million dollars, but for next year the tax- ables amount to only $53,578,355, which is a reduction of approxi- mately eleven million.

The combined rate for state pur- poses this year is 24 cents and next year it will be 27 cents, but the re- duced valuations are responsible for the reduction of $10,000 in the revenue raised. The taxes paid for county purposes this year amount to $113,900, whereas the revenue for county purposes next year will amount to $85,600.

To show that taxes will be less a comparison has been made be- tween this year's and next year's taxes of five farmers in each town- ship who pay taxes on big valua- tions. With the single exception of Walker township, where the rate was increased considerably, the big taxpayers will pay less next year.

FRANK NICHOLSON RESIGNS

Night Patrolman Said to Have Fired
Through Floor at Restaurant

Patrolman Frank Nicholson, who has been on night duty for the past few years on the local police force, tendered his resignation to Police Chief Blackburn early Sunday morn- ing, according to the police head. Although there was no motive as- signed for the resignation, the coun- cilmen today learned that an affair in a down town restaurant took place early Sunday morning, in which the police officer was said to have lost his temper and fired his revolver through the floor.

The appointment of his successor was not made today, but it is ex- pected to have the position filled in a few nights. The appointment is made by the police committee, and confirmed by the council.

LAW ENFORCEMENT DRIVE UNDER WAY

Campaign for "Blue Sundays" Starts in Many Churches Sunday and Will Be Continued

LAUNCHED IN INDIANAPOLIS

Pastor of Universalist Church Says
Many Men and Women Are
Dissatisfied With Politics

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23.—The drive for "blue Sundays" and law enforcement in Indiana was fairly under way today.

Many churches throughout the state observed yesterday as Law En- forcement day and many others will designate next Sunday in the advent of protestant churches into politics.

"Let us pray that we have a greater vision of God and have hope and faith and not turn over our political affairs to those who would use them merely for self or party, but have that faith which brings about a re- generation in political affairs," de- clared the Rev. Edwin Cunningham to his exclusive flock of Universalists.

Rev. Cunningham's sermon on "Some Present Day Discontents— Politics," was the signal for opening the drive launched by the Indianapo- lis Church Federation and the Union Ministers Association of In- dianapolis, to clean up politics and prevent the desecration of Sunday. "There is at present in our land many men and women who are dis- satisfied with the political affairs of the nation," said the Rev. Cunning- ham. "They are discontented to the extent that they are agitating a new day in politics, firm in the belief that we are at the beginning of a new era of purity of men in office."

Senator McCumber was "justly de- feated" in the North Dakota primary the Rev. Cunningham declared.

PACK OF WOLVES AT LARGE

Terrorize People Near Warsaw When
Driven Out By Fire in Swamp

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 23.—Terrorized by the appearance of a pack of wolves driven from a swamp near here by fire early today, farmers kept their children indoors, while others with loaded rifles and shot guns accompanied their youngsters to school.

Drivers of school hacks also were armed with shot guns. When Ray Teeple went to a field at the edge of the swamp to dig potatoes, a large hound accompanying him, was killed by six wolves. Cattle, sheep and hogs recently have also been attacked by the wolves.

Families were organizing for a wolf hunt in which several hundred persons will participate.

FRENCH SUB MISSING

Paris, Oct. 23.—Grave fears were expressed today for the safety of the French submarine, Roiland Morillet carrying a crew of twenty three. The submarine, returning from the Near East, was last seen off Brest Friday. It was feared that the Morillet may have been wrecked or forced out on the high seas by a storm.

CLOSES WITH NIGHT MEETING

Former Lieut. Gov. Bush and George
M. Barnard to Speak and Entertaining Features are Arranged

Republicans will participate in large numbers in the county tour scheduled for Tuesday, according to reports reaching headquarters to- day. The caravan of automobiles will leave Rushville at 8:30 o'clock and the first meeting will be held at Milroy at nine o'clock. There the motor tourists will divide, half going back up the eastern side of the county and the other half the west- ern side. They will meet at Carthage the western division being scheduled to arrive at 2 p. m. and the eastern division at 3 p. m.

The tourists are expected to pick up recruits at each town where they stop and all of them will come to Rushville from Carthage for a night meeting at the court house.

Way will be provided for all per- sons who have no machines or an invitation to go, it was announced today. Earl F. Priest is in charge of this part of the arrangements and those who wish to go may notify him and he will find a place for them in some machine.

Paul Spivey will accompany one division and will give whistling solos at each stop and a colored quartet composed of the four Flower Brothers will go with the other division to sing some campaign songs.

George M. Barnard of Indianapo- lis, formerly a member of the India- napolis public service commission, and Edgar Bush of Salem, former lieutenant governor of Indiana, are the speakers who have been as- signed to Rush county for the tour. One will go with one section and the other speaker will travel in the other section, making political speeches at each stop.

Not many political meetings are scheduled for the remainder of the campaign. The republicans will center all of their efforts following the county tour on the closing meeting of the campaign on Monday after- noon, November 6, when Senator James E. Watson will speak here. He will go to Newcastle from here and close the campaign there.

Senator Watson, who has been speaking twice daily in the state for three weeks, turned his efforts to the aid of republican nominees

RUNS INTO STANDING CAR SOUTH OF CITY

Machine Driven by Robert G. Goodin
Collides With One Belonging to
Indianapolis Man

BOTH ARE BADLY DAMAGED

Two automobiles were badly dam- aged on the New Salem pike a few miles south of Rushville about mid- night Saturday, when a machine owned and driven by Robert G. Goodin of this city and a machine owned by C. E. Harman of Indianapo- lis met. According to the informa- tion received, the Harman machine was standing still in the middle of the road, and the Rushville machine was coming toward this city, and as several machines were passing the place, the driver failed to notice the machine standing in the road on account of the glare of lights.

Both machines were badly dis- abled, and had to be brought to this city for repairs. The occupants es- caped with only slight bruises and cuts.

In the Rushville machine with Goodin were Earl Hall and Horace Warth, and several people were with Mr. Harman, who resides at 1110 North Keystone, Ave., Indianapolis.

LOVE LYRICS READ BY THE MURDERED COUPLE

Favorite Reading of the Rev. E. W. Hall and Mrs. Elinor Mills is Disclosed

SOME OF POEMS QUOTED

(By United Press)

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 23.—“Give me your love for a day, a night an hour;

If the wages of sin are death, I am willing to pay.”

The above is one of the selections from “India's Love lyrics” by Lawrence Hope, which has been disclosed was the favorite poetry of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Elinor Mills, who were found murdered near here, five weeks ago.

In the beautiful lyrics the minister and his choir leader apparently found justification for the clandestine love affair, which did not come to light until after their death.

The poems were written by Lawrence Hope, an English girl welfare worker who went out to India and fell in love with a married army captain.

This is the last stanza of “Less Than Dust”, which the rector and his love probably read together:

“Since I, Oh Lord, am nothing unto Thee,

Seize here thy sword, I make it keen and bright,

Love's last reward, death comes to me tonight,

Farewell, Zarhir U-Din.”

DAUGHERTY RULING

give a bond in the sum of $25,000 conditional against the use of such stock for any other purpose than are proved rations.”

Washington, Oct. 23.—(United Press)—The Daugherty ruling, banning liquor from American ships throughout the world and preventing foreign ships from bringing it into American territory now will be put into “full force and effect,” it was announced at the prohibition bureau today upon receipt of word from New York that Judge Learned Hand had denied the request of steamship companies for a permanent injunction.

“The ruling now will be enforced against all ships, as provided in the opinion of the attorney general,” said J. J. Britt, counsel for the prohibition bureau.

“A supersedeas or an appeal probably will be taken by the steamship companies and the case carried to the supreme court, but meanwhile the law will be enforced.”

It was intimated that the regulations giving formal notice to all shipping interests that the ban is now in effect, would be issued today or tomorrow by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

These regulations have been modified so as to eliminate the provision, proposed by the prohibition bureau, for seizure and forfeiture of both American and foreign vessels found to have violated the ruling.

According to information here the shipping interests are expected to take their appeal direct to the supreme court of the United States if a way can be found for such action.

PEGGY BEAL BEGINS FIGHT

Accused of Murder of Indianapolis Man, the Perfect Lover

Kansas, City, Mo., Oct. 23—Pretty Peggy Beal went into court here today to begin her unique fight for freedom for the murder of F. Warren Anderson, educational director of Indianapolis, last June.

The little bobbed haired beauty will rely on the claim that she killed to save other women from the wiles of the "perfect lover" after he had shown her a list of fifty other broken hearts in many cities.

FALSE FIRE ALARM

A telephone call Saturday night at 7:20 to the fire department, sent the pumper and chemical trucks to West Third street, where a false alarm was registered. The information over the telephone was a woman, who stated that there was a fire at Wainwright's, but the firemen could not discover any blaze at the store or a dwelling occupied by that family in West Third street.

"TORCH MANIAC" SOUGHT

Blamed for Latest N. Y. Tenement Fire Which Killed 14 Persons

New York, Oct. 23—Tenements were guarded today against a "torch maniac," believed responsible for the fire which killed fourteen persons and injured many others in an upper East Side apartment house Sunday morning.

Authorities have no doubt that the fire was of incendiary origin. The finding of the charred iron skeleton of a baby carriage on the first floor led to this conclusion. It was believed the maniac placed oil paper in the carriage and then threw a match in it.

The maniac is held responsible for the loss of twenty-one lives in the last month in fires started in the identical manner as this one.

AMUSEMENTS

Marion Davies at Princess

For the first time since Marion Davies danced and sang in musical comedy on Broadway, whence she was selected for stardom on the screen, does she "trip the light fantastic" again. This time it is in her newest picture, "Beauty's Worth", a Cosmopolitan-Paramount picture, coming to the Princess Theatre today and Tuesday.

The production has a beautiful charade performance in it, Miss Davies taking the leading role. She dances in two of the three acts of the charades, first as a Columbine and later as a lovely French doll.

"Beauty's Worth" was adapted to the screen by Luther Reed from Sophie Kerr's popular story. It is a delicious picture of how a girl found that what her sweetheart admired in her was not charming personality but her stunning gowns. The picture was directed by Robert G. Vignola. Forrest Stanley is Miss Davies' leading man.

At Mystic Two Days

William Duncan, appearing as Ned Lightning in "The Fighting Guide" at Mystic Theatre on today and Tuesday will afford a rare treat for local sportsmen and out-of-door folks.

For Duncan is first of all an outdoor man himself, and consequently one of the most popular screen outdoor stars. As Ned Lightning, he simply puts on his old "outers", fills up the Jimmy pipe and goes to it.

Ned Lightning, in an unguarded moment, undertakes to conduct Lord Chumleigh Winston, plus his valet, his "hawth" tub and many other things, through the Canadian Rockies to his Lordship's syndicate holdings, up back beyond.

Resembling a Christmas tree on the exterior, and a volcano on the interior, Ned takes the trail from the railroad, resolved, if possible to make the best of a bad bargain. One two, three days of torture as the cook, maid, butler and laundryman of his protege, and Ned blows up. Then things begin to happen.

THE COPPER-CLAD RANGE

The strikingly beautiful outlines of the Copper Clad Range stops every woman. As she looks and admires, she finds it is true beauty—the beauty of simple elegance and perfect proportions—of fine finish—the thoroughbred of the Range World.

Look for hinges on the above—two only on the oven door and they are long and smooth. There are six other doors yet not a hinge in sight, not a catch, nor hook nor latch. Built like fine automobiles, the hinges are all inside.

THE COPPER-CLAD RANGE

WITH WHITE ENAMEL TRIMMINGS

"Copper-Clad" means pure Sheet Copper is placed BETWEEN the sweaty asbestos and range body. To place it elsewhere would be like climbing on top of a roof to get out of the wet.

COPPER-CLAD WEEK

This Week, Oct. 23 to 28 Inclusive

No matter whether you want a range now or next year or any other time, it will pay you to come and see the Copper-Clad Crank make the Asbestos Sweat.

He takes any piece of Asbestos, puts it between two iron plates—heats it—and shows you the sweat. You can roll it up in drops with your finger.

Every good range must be lined with asbestos to hold the heat around the oven and keep down fuel costs. Every time the range cools off, the asbestos takes moisture out of the fresh air circulating through the range like a blotter takes up water. When you fire up, this moisture is driven by the heat to the outside against the cold range body and starts Sweat-Rust on the inside where you can't get at it even though you know it rusts. Sweat-Rust ruins thousands and thousands of otherwise good ranges every year. When the range body is gone, the range is done for.

The Copper-Clad Idea Is "Pure Sheet" Copper

Between the Asbestos and Range Body

Copper never rusts. It may tarnish but it will last centuries. There are Copper Domes that have been defying the elements for hundreds of years. So, when we say a "Copper-Clad can't rust out," we mean that the copper lining overcomes all internal rust. An oiled rag will keep the outside free of rust—and there are no fussy ornaments full of rivets and bolts to skin your hands. The Copper-Clad wipes clean like a dish.

If these things are so—you should know it. Not by hearsay—but by the evidence of your own eyes. Remember, this "Copper-Clad Crank" is here to tell—to show—to explain. He delights in it. You won't "bother" him by asking questions. He has oodles of time to answer and he is here to "Show You."

SAM LANCASTER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 23—His second big "bust" in a world's series and his most disappointing season, leads to the belief that Babe Ruth is through.

It may be that he was in a psychological slump all season after getting a late start—if he got started—and that he will be back doing his old stuff next season.

Chances are against that, however, unless he changes his way of living during the winter.

Ruth has lost his eye, the perfect timing and coordination that used to make him such a terror at the bat and the swing that gave him the most powerful drive in baseball according to a prominent baseball man who has been close to him all season.

"One of his main troubles is the loss of perfect vision. To retain perfect sight an athlete must keep in strict training and Ruth does not," he said.

"His mode of living also has put so much weight on him that his swing has been thrown off. He doesn't get the drive that he used to. He misses balls now by four or five inches that he used to murder. He has worried himself into changing his stance and his confidence obviously has been weakened."

Yankee club owners are thinking of disposing of Ruth, according to responsible authority.

It is hard to believe, however, that any club would dispose of the greatest drawing card in baseball.

It may be true that his poor showing this year will make him less of an attraction next season, but it is believed that almost as many customers will pay to see him making a bust of himself as used to go out to see him busting the ball.

Ruth has done a lot for baseball and he ought to be given a chance. He, more than anyone else, saved the game after the expose of the 1919 world's series scandal.

How he is to be given a chance, is hard to figure, however. The fans were very patient with him this year and if the encouragement from the stands had any influence he ought to have been the champion slugger this season.

His future rests entirely in his own hands. He knows that fate is fickle and that he cannot stay in baseball on his reputation. He will have to deliver or he may be the biggest card of the minor leagues in 1924.

After his four round victory over Jim Tracey, South American figure that their heavyweight champion, Luis Firpo is ready for Dempsey.

They have never seen Dempsey and they think that Tracey is a first class heavyweight.

Americans who know the former Australian champion cannot begin to take Firpo seriously yet, when it required four rounds for Firpo to knock over Tracey.

Tracey outpointed Firpo in the first two rounds, confirming the judgment of good American boxing critics who claim that any heavyweight who is at all clever and who packs a good punch would have no trouble beating Firpo.

Firpo evidently can take it. He is built like a cave man and it would take a Wills or a Dempsey punch to put him down for the count.

ARLINGTON CLUB WHIPS Y. M. S. TEAM

Scores Three Touchdowns in Second Quarter and Holds Visitors to Lone Drop Kick

CUMBERLAND TIGERS NEXT

The Arlington Athletic Club defeated the Y. M. S. team of Indianapolis Sunday afternoon, 20 to 3. Arlington played the kind of football that they are capable of playing. All three touchdowns were made in the second quarter.

The Y. M. S. team fought hard but could do nothing with Bing and Chet Northam's line smashing. Excaptain Chet Northam also did well at forward passing and open field running, making a forty yard run through the whole Indianapolis team.

The Y. M. S. team scored their three points on a drop kick from the thirty-three yard line in the fourth quarter.

There was a large crowd in attendance and all seemed to be well pleased with the playing of both teams. Next Sunday the Cumberland Tigers will be the attraction at Arlington. Cumberland has not been defeated this year. On November 5 Arlington will meet the Ferndale team at Indianapolis.

SHORTAGE OF CARS CHECKING MINING

Shortage Of Labor And Drought Also Curtailed Production of Coal During First 30 Days of Operation

MANY FORCED TO CLOSE DOWN

Imports From Big Cities Pour into Mining Centers And Rains Have Brought Streams Up

(By United Press)

Wilkes Barre, Pa., Oct. 23—During the first thirty days of operations in the anthracite mines, after a five months suspension production of hard coal was curtailed by a shortage of labor, drought that threatened the existence of washeries and lack of gondola cars.

Operators, however, are striving to overcome the big handicaps, so that production of domestic fuel may soon reach normal proportions and the tonnage will mount to the 2,000,000 mark weekly.

Many mines in the hard coal regions, comprising of about 480 square miles, have been forced to close down two and three days a week because there has been no cars to haul the "black diamonds".

Box cars have been used extensively for hauling coal westward, and railroads, by placing embargoes on "slow freight," are endeavoring to place sufficient cars in mine sidings to overcome the car shortage.

During the suspension many laborers left the anthracite region to seek employment in other sections of the country. When the mines resumed operations, skilled licensed miners were available for loading the products into railroad cars.

Imports from the big cities of the United States are now pouring into the mining centers at the rate of 100 a day. They are speedily instructed in the art of wielding shovels, and operating automatic loaders.

Every coal washery in the entire hard coal region was forced to curtail operations because of a lengthy drought. Rain, however, have brought streams up and once more washeries are operating full time.

Indications are that normal production of coal will be reached by October 20.

Thought It Was Idle Talk Says Mrs. Kruger

"When I first heard so much talk in favor of Tanlac I thought it was only idle gossip, but since this medicine has done me so much good I know every word was true," declared Mrs. William Kruger, 692 S. Hinchman St., Hammond, Ind.

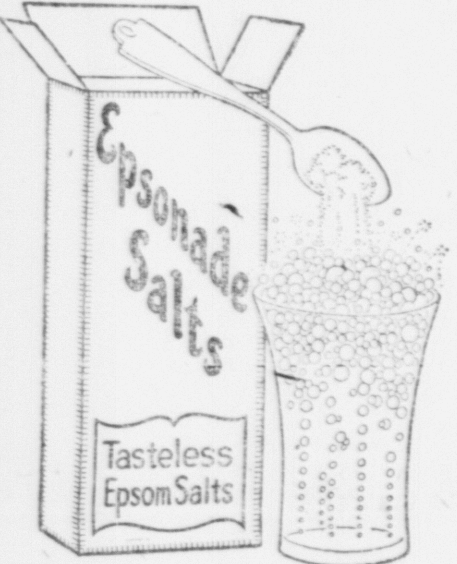

"Before I started taking Tanlac I was so weak that the least little work, like making the beds, was almost more than I could stand. Sometimes when I would bend over sharp, stabbing pains in my back felt like they would finish me, and I had such dizzy spells and buzzing pains in my head I was nearly wild. My stomach was upset all the time, I lost my appetite entirely, and any food I would force myself to eat caused me terrible pains, gas and heartburn. It was impossible for me to get a good night's sleep and it looked like I would never be well again.

"But now I have no trouble at all, for Tanlac has made me feel like myself again. My housework is easy, I have a splendid appetite and indigestion and the pains in my back are things of the past. In short, I am healthy and happy, and consider it my duty to let others know what a valuable medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. —Advertisement

ARMY REDUCTION EAST VERSUS WEST SHOWS A SAVING IN ART COLLECTION

With Lowered Appropriations For Army, Enlisted Strength Is Cut From 280,000 to 125,000

IS BELOW ACT OF 1916

Distribution Of Troops Throughout The Country Has Been Made Wisely, Experts Assert

Washington, Oct. 23.—To get some idea of the decimation of the United States Army caused by the appropriation bill for the fiscal year 1923, it is only necessary to state that the enlisted strength of the army was, on the score of economy, cut from 280,000, as provided for in the National Defense act of 1920, to 125,000 as at present authorized. This is 102,000 below the number provided for in the National Defense Act of 1916.

Congress having spoken, the Army has moved steadily to its task. The missions of the Army, assigned by the Defense Act of 1920 were (1) to train and develop branches of citizen soldiery; (2) to maintain the necessary schools for the training of officers and enlisted men of the three components of the Army, Regulars, Guards, and Reserves; (3) to maintain the administrative overhead for the three-party Army; (4) to provide peace-time garrisons for our continental coast defenses; (5) to provide peace and war garrisons for our overseas possessions; (6) to maintain a well-trained force for emergency and to serve as a model and demonstrating force for the two bodies of citizen soldiery. How to succeed in these missions with a force less than 45 percent of that provided in the Act assigning them was, of course, the great problem which the War Department had to meet.

The first thing to do was to determine how this reduced army, which represents one soldier for each 8,800 citizens, could be distributed among the several arms of the service. The distribution arrived at is as follows: Infantry, 46,423; Cavalry, 9,871; Field Artillery, 17,173; Coast Artillery, 12,026; Air Service, 8,500; Engineers, 5,020; Signal Corps, 2,184; Quartermaster Corps, 8,000; Finance Department, 393; Ordnance Department, 2,307; Chemical Warfare Service, 445; Medical Department, 6,850; D. E. M. L., 5,704; Unallotted, 104. The force held responsible for the maintenance of law and order in our overseas possessions numbers 28,277, apportioned as follows: Philippine Islands, 4,512; Hawaii, 13,735; Panama, 8,856; Porto Rico, 1,374. This leaves for use in the United States 96,723 enlisted men for the performance of the many duties assigned under the National Defense Act.

"In the distribution of troops in the United States," says the War Department, "the greatest reduction necessarily had to be made in our coast defenses and in the mobile force. By the mobile force is meant that force used for emergency purposes, for the protection of our southern border, as a model and demonstrating force for the citizen soldiers, and as a basis for expansion in the event of an attack by another nation or group of nations. It was impossible to reduce to any considerable extent the number of men allotted to the overhead of the three-part Army, to the school system and on special duty with the National Guard, Organized Reserves, and R. O. T. C." This force which under the National Defense Act was to consist of 107,000 men, must operate with 43,000, a substitute being found for the divisional organization in the reinforced brigade, and the training centers abandoned.

If public opinion with respect to the whittling down of the Army was reflected in the Appropriation Act which slashed it 55 per cent, the public will at least be glad to know that the War department has made the leaves and fishes perform miracles in the way of distribution. Certainly the times warrant no further reduction in our military forces unless we wish to blow "taps" over the remains of the establishment.

Pennsylvania Widener Collection And Huntington Collection Of California Seek Championship

WIDENER OFFSETS PRESTIGE

Has Purchased Rembrandt's Famous Masterpiece, "The Descent From The Cross", At $500,000

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Pa. Oct. 23.—The war of the arts is on—East against West.

The Widener collection of Pennsylvania and the Huntington collection of California are vying for the final championship, the world's title in art collections.

With the recent acquisition of Rembrandt's famous masterpiece "The Descent from the Cross," the Widener museum offset the prestige won by Huntington, by his purchase of Gainsborough's "The Blue Boy" for $800,000.

While the purchase price of the "Descent from the Cross" has not been made public it is said to run considerably over the amount Widener paid for his last Rembrandt, rumored to have been $500,000.

"The Descent from the Cross" is the flowering of the genius of the great Dutch master and marks the culmination of his efforts to interpret religious fervor. Like other "old masters" it has had a long and varied history and for many years its authenticity was doubted. At last restored and reinstated to its rightful place in the art world, it moved from owner to owner until it was sold at Christie's London's famous auction room.

This is the 13th Rembrandt Widener has added to his great art collection at Elkins Park, his beautiful estate near here.

While Huntington has been building a magnificent museum out on his California estate, Widener has been quietly acquiring picture after picture.

The winner in the contest will be the public, for it is said that both collections will eventually be left the people. The city of Philadelphia has recently been enriched by the wonderful collection of English paintings, valued at more than $1,600,000 left it by the late John H. McFadden.

MAINTENANCE IS CHIEF REQUISITE

Great Change Has Been Brought in Indiana State Road System, According to Commission

SYSTEM IN FAIR CONDITION

Maintenance Means Widening Thoroughfare, Easing Curves and Making Entire New Grades

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23—Maintenance is one of the chief requisites of modern highway success if there is to be a permanent overland transportation system all year, is the contention of the state highway commission at this time caring for approximately 4,000 miles of Indiana highways.

After two years of maintenance a great change has been brought about in the Indiana state road system, and at this time the major part of the system exclusive of earth roads, is in a very fair condition for traffic, many miles being unusually fine, according to John D. Williams, director.

A. H. Hinkle superintendent of maintenance, says an attempt has been made first to put in good serviceable condition the worst gaps in the more important routes. Roads which two years ago were full of chuck holes, possessed inferior drainage, were narrow and hazardous to traffic, today are firm to the heavy traffic, wide, and grades and turns eased and made safer.

Maintenance in the state highway department means widening thoroughfare, easing curves and elevations and making entire new grades, as well as complete resurfacing in many instances. After a road has practically been rebuilt, constant attention and upkeep such as dragging three times each week, frequent applications of gravel and stone, cutting drainage ditches, and patching cement, brick and penetration top surfaces continues. The result is state roads are passable at all seasons of the year and farmers now take advantage of better markets regardless of weather conditions which formerly seriously handicapped advantageous selling and delivery.

Of the 4,000 miles of roads in the Indiana highway system, practically are all-season roads with the possible exception of earth roads, state highway officials say. They point out that with the advent of state maintained roads which are wider and permit augmented traffic, the bulk of traffic now passes over these thoroughfares. State roads also promote greater business by reason markets are accessible at all times.

Mr. Hinkle says that heavy traffic last winter and this spring was a severe test on gravel and stone roads because of the "soft" weather. In spite of this state roads held up much better than the year previous. "Although we were criticised much for not prohibiting by arrest the heavy loads from passing over the roads in the spring of 1921, it was not believed that necessary traffic should be hampered at any season of the year. Hence users of state highways were permitted on them but requested to employ common sense and avoid so far as possible the abuse of roads during the thaws."

Highway officials point out that while many roads were badly cut up at various times, hauling heavy loads during the wet season had one advantage in bringing to attention the weak places in the highways where additional thickness of metal was required.

AID IN PROGRAM TO ELECTRIFY U. S.

Electric Industry in Indiana Adopts Slogan "Let There Be Light"—One Fourth Homes Supplied

GOAL SET FOR ONE THIRD

Many Companies Are Financing Contract Work For Prospective Customers To Accomplish Object

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23—"Let there be light," seems to be the slogan of the electric industry in Indiana, which is cooperating in the "electrify America" program of the National Electric Light Association. It is estimated that 1-4 of the homes in Indiana receive light service from the electric companies, traction companies and municipal plants. This high proportion has been reached in the last few years despite war conditions, but the industry has set as its next goal, service for 1-3 of the homes in the state.

Charles B. Murphy, of the Merchant Heat and Light Co., Indianapolis, and members of the committee on Public Utility Information, ascribed the recent rapid growth in part to popular demand for electric service and in part to the operation of the Public Service commission.

"Thousands of Indiana homes situated outside the city limits," said Murphy have obtained electric facilities because the Public Service commission is in position to cause the electric utilities to supply service beyond the borders of the cities. In the days before the commission was created, people living in the country were at the mercy of companies operating under city franchise and the companies were not always obliged to provide service outside city limits. Now-a-days the electric companies are carrying their lines in to the country to provide modern facilities within reach."

The present program of the electric companies, however, is to carry current into the home of the cities and to accomplish this object, many of the companies are financing contract work for prospective customers. Many of the companies are advertising in the newspapers to obtain the attention of their customers, and making suggestions as to the best and most economical plans for wiring houses. In South Bend, the electric company pays the contractor who does the wiring, and permits the customers to pay for the work in twelve monthly payments. At Muncie a census has been taken of all the unwired homes, and a card index made of the results. Here, as in South Bend, the company pays the contractor and permits the customer to repay in installments. The same plan is used in Kokomo.

MOVIES, AUTOS ANSWER TO AGE OLD QUESTION

By LINCOLN QUARBERG

Chicago, Oct. 23—Movies and automobiles are the modern answer to the age-old question "Why Girls Leave Home?"

Judge Mary Bartelme, of Chicago's juvenile court, declared today that the speed of the times, with youth leading the race, has again raised the proverbial problem for mothers. "Girls of today are hungry for thrills," Judge Bartelme said. "They crave speed and action—food for their emotions."

"They find it in the movie and the automobile."

Judge Bartelme's answer was prompted by the wholesale reports to Chicago police from mothers whose daughters mysteriously disappeared from home. A greater number of girls are being reported missing to the police than ever before.

Search for many high school girls reported missing from home under mysterious circumstances, engaged the efforts of a corps of police and detectives.

"The modern girl gets a taste of life in the plush of a movie seat or an automobile, and home no longer holds her interest," Miss Bartelme said.

"A girl unaccustomed to the luxuries of 'movie life' naturally seeks that sort of a thrill for herself."

"The automobile is her idea of luxury and a good time—she gets that idea partly from the movies."

"Between the movies and the automobile, she finds plenty of reason to be dissatisfied with home."

LABOR LEADERS HELD

SPECIAL VENIRE IS EXHAUSTED

Forty-Five Talesmen are Examined
Before Jury is Obtained in Far-
low Arson Case

OPENING STATEMENT MADE

State Will Attempt to Prove Defend-
and Fired Barn on the Joseph
Farlow Farm

The case of the State against John D. Farlow of near Milroy, charged with arson, got started today in the circuit court, and the jury was not obtained until 2:30 this afternoon, after 45 talesmen had been examined for service.

Each side exhausted their number of opportunities to excuse jurors, and several were excused on challenges. Considerable interest was being displayed in the case today.

The prosecuting witness in the case is Clifford Power, a tenant on the Joseph Farlow farm. According to the affidavit on which the defendant is being tried, it is charged that on July 16, 1922, in the nighttime, he set fire to the barn, and that it was extinguished without loss.

The state also will attempt to prove according to Prosecutor Stevens in his opening statement that the defendant was shot with a shotgun fired as he stood in the doorway of the barn, after it was supposed that he was returning to set fire to the barn again.

The arrest was made by members of the Anderson township branch of the Rush County Horse Thief Detective Association, which will take an active part in the prosecution of the case, it was stated.

Several attorneys have been hired to assist the state, including A. L. Gary John A. Tittsworth and Douglas Morris, of this city, who will assist Prosecutor Stevens and Sherman Davis, an attorney in the State Fire Marshal's office.

The defense is represented in the matter by Gates Ketchum and Donald L. Smith of this city. Rollin Turner of Greensburg also may assist before the case is completed, but he was unable to be present today on account of illness.

The case is being heard before Judge John C. Craig of Greensburg and it may require several days for trial.

TAKES HAND IN TEXAS SENATORIAL MUDDLE

Pres. Harding Commends Republican Chairmen for Coming to aid
of Independent Democrats

KU KLUX KLAN IS INVOLVED

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 23.—President Harding today entered the Texas senatorial muddle.

A letter from the chief executive to R. B. Creager, state Republican chairman, was made public, in which Mr. Harding commended Texas Republican chairmen for coming to the aid of independent Democrats in a "concentrated fight" against all grouping of classes and attending dictation, which is "contrary to American ideals."

Creager recently returned from Washington where he conferred with leading Republicans concerning the candidacy of George E. B. Peddy, 30 year old lawyer who was chosen by anti-Ku Klux Klan Democrats and adopted by the Texas G. O. P., to oppose Earle B. Mayfield, Democratic nominee. Mayfield, it is alleged, was backed by the invisible empire in the primary battles.

An entanglement of litigation now holds the name of each of the senatorial aspirants off the official ballot.

JUDGE UPHOLDS DAUGHERTY RULING

Overrules Application for Injunction
Against Order Filed by Steam-
ship Companies

WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT

Opponents of Order Claim it Unconstitutional and Invasion of Rights
of Foreign Countries

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 23.—Judge Learned Hand today upheld the Daugherty ruling, forbidding ships from bringing liquor into American ports, in his decision on the application of steamship companies for injunction against enforcement of the decree.

The application for the injunction was made by the White Star Line, Cunard Line, anchor line and others. The companies announced after ruling they would carry their case to the supreme court of the United States.

The companies, in their arguments to the court, claimed the Daugherty ruling was not only in violation to the constitution of the United States but an invasion of the rights of foreign countries.

In his decision Judge Hand said: "The discussion of a law of the United States especially a law in execution of a constitution amendment, is of itself an irreparable injury which no judge has the right to ignore. The public purposes, which the law was intended to execute, have behind them the deep conviction of thousands of persons who should not be thwarted in what they conceive to be for the public good.

"No reparation is possible if it is. Furthermore, it is at best, a delicate matter for a judge to tie the hands of other public officers in the execution of their duties as they understand them, and the books are full of admonitions against doing so, except in a very clear case.

"Here not only is a case not clear, but so far as I can judge, plaintiffs have no case. Therefore, I will go no further than to issue an injunction against interfering with the carriage of a stock necessary for the crew's rations on the east bound voyage. Plaintiffs must each Continued on Page Two

Police Raid Home of Charley Sweet
Who is Arrested

Charley Sweet was arrested Sunday afternoon at his home in the western part of the city, following a raid by officers, in which it is charged that a pint of corn whiskey was found. The defendant was placed in jail, and a charge of unlawful possession was filed against him in the circuit court. The raid was made by Police Chief Blackburn, Constable John Wolter and Prosecutor Stevens.

It was expected that the defendant would be arraigned this afternoon in the court before Judge Sparks, in an effort to secure release on bond. A barn, said by the police to be rented by Alpheus Taylor, also was searched, but nothing found.

BONAR LAW TAKES OFFICE TONIGHT

New British Premier Will Succeed
Lloyd George, Who Has Head-
ed Government Six Years

TELLS KING GEORGE FORMALLY

Bonar Law Announces He Will Accept Responsibility—Dissolution
of Parliament Thursday

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 23.—Bonar Law succeeds Lloyd George as prime minister of Great Britain this evening.

Law formally announced to King George that he would accept the responsibility of heading the government which succeeds the coalition of Lloyd George.

The out-going premier visited his magistrate to say farewell and turned over to his successor the seals of the office, which he has held for six years.

This marks the end of the coalition government which came into being during the war and which was sponsored by both Liberals and Unionists.

It was officially stated that Premier Bonar Law would announce the names of the personnel of his cabinet tomorrow. The dissolution of parliament will precipitate a general election Thursday.

In keeping with tradition, the retiring premier has made up a list of statesmen he will ask the crown to honor.

It is understood that Lloyd George will recommend an earldom for Lord Birkenhead and a dukedom for Lord Curzon, two of the most prominent in the outgoing cabinet.

Lloyd George last night gave a farewell dinner to his supporters at 10 Downing street at which his political future was fully discussed.

Winston Churchill, colonial minister in the late cabinet, issued a statement from his sick bed in which he declared he would support the liberals and co-operate with the progressive conservatives.

The manifesto was addressed to the liberals at Dundee where Churchill is to stand in the general elections for parliament.

LARGE BARN ON THE NORRIS FARM BURNS

Fire of Unknown Origin Causes Loss
of Several Thousand Dollars
Sunday Afternoon

ORIGIN IS NOT KNOWN

A large stock and grain barn on the W. A. Norris farm, seven miles southeast of Rushville, was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon about two o'clock and the origin of the blaze was a complete mystery. The loss amounted to several thousand dollars, with only a small percentage of the loss being covered with insurance.

Mr. Norris was away from home at the time, and his son Franklin was the only one near. People passing by in an automobile gave the alarm, but the barn was enveloped in flames when discovered.

The loss includes 60 tons of hay, 150 bushels of oats, a consignment of wool, all kinds of harness and other articles. The stock in the building was saved.

The theory was advanced today that possibly the insane man who was captured on the Amos farm Friday night, and escaped from the poor farm, might have been in the vicinity, and farmers should notify the officers if a strange acting man is seen.

SHOWS TAXES FOR 1923 WILL BE LESS

Comparison of Amounts Paid by
Leading Taxpayers in Each Township This Year and Next

RATES HIGHER, REVENUE LESS

Sum to be Raised for County in 1923 $28,300 Less and State Revenue Reduced $10,000

A study in taxes has been prepared to show that the average person will pay less next year than they did this year, even though the tax rates are higher in nearly every township of the county.

As has been explained before, the higher levies were due to decreased valuations for next year, especially on farm land and improvements, but the estimated expenditures for the coming calendar year, which actually determines the amount of taxes to be paid, are less in every taxing unit, with a few exceptions.

Approximately $10,000 less will be raised in Rush county for all state purposes next year and for county purposes there will be a decrease of $28,300 in revenue raised by taxation during the year 1923.

All taxable property of the county is assessed for taxation purposes this year at 64 and a half million dollars, but for next year the taxable amount to only $53,578,355, which is a reduction of approximately eleven million.

The combined rate for state purposes this year is 24 cents and next year it will be 27 cents, but the reduced valuations are responsible for the reduction of $10,000 in the revenue raised. The taxes paid for county purposes this year amount to $113,900, whereas the revenue for county purposes next year will amount to $85,600.

To show that taxes will be less a comparison has been made between this year's and next year's taxes of five farmers in each township who pay taxes on big valuations. With the single exception of Walker township, where the rate was increased considerably, the big taxpayers will pay less next year. The comparison follows:

FRANK NICHOLSON RESIGNS

Night Patrolman Said to Have Fired
Through Floor at Restaurant

Patrolman Frank Nicholson, who has been on night duty for the past few years on the local police force, tendered his resignation to Police Chief Blackburn early Sunday morning, according to the police head. Although there was no motive assigned for the resignation, the councilmen today learned that an affair in a down town restaurant took place early Sunday morning, in which the police officer was said to have lost his temper and fired his revolver through the floor.

The appointment of his successor was not made today, but it is expected to have the position filled in a few nights. The appointment is made by the police committee, and confirmed by the council.

Pastor of Universalist Church Says
Many Men and Women Are
Dissatisfied With Politics

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23.—The drive for "blue Sundays" and law enforcement in Indiana was fairly under way today.

Many churches throughout the state observed yesterday as Law Enforcement day and many others will designate next Sunday in the advent of protestant churches into politics.

"Let us pray that we have a greater vision of God and have hope and faith and not turn over our political affairs to those who would use them merely for self or party, but have that faith which brings about a regeneration in political affairs," declared the Rev. Edwin Cunningham to his exclusive flock of Universalists.

Rev. Cunningham's sermon on "Some Present Day Discontents—Politics," was the signal for opening the drive launched by the Indianapolis Church Federation and the Union Ministers Association of Indianapolis, to clean up politics and prevent the desecration of Sunday.

"There is at present in our land many men and women who are dissatisfied with the political affairs of the nation," said the Rev. Cunningham. "They are discontented to the extent that they are agitating a new day in politics, firm in the belief that we are at the beginning of a new era of purity of men in office."

Senator McCumber was "justly defeated" in the North Dakota primary the Rev. Cunningham declared.

PACK OF WOLVES AT LARGE

Terrorize People Near Warsaw When
Driven Out By Fire in Swamp

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 23.—Terrorized by the appearance of a pack of wolves driven from a swamp near here by fire early today, farmers kept their children indoors, while others with loaded rifles and shot guns accompanied their youngsters to school.

Drivers of school hacks also were armed with shot guns. When Ray Teeple went to a field at the edge of the swamp to dig potatoes, a large hound accompanying him, was killed by six wolves. Cattle, sheep and hogs recently have also been attacked by the wolves.

Families were organizing for a wolf hunt in which several hundred persons will participate.

FRENCH SUB MISSING

Paris, Oct. 23.—Grave fears were expressed today for the safety of the French submarine, Royland Morillet carrying a crew of twenty three. The submarine, returning from the Near East, was last seen off Brest Friday. It was feared that the Morillet may have been wrecked or forced out on the high seas by a storm.

G. O. P. READY FOR THE COUNTY TOUR

CLOSES WITH NIGHT MEETING

Former Lieut. Gov. Bush and George
M. Barnard to Speak and Entertaining Features are Arranged

Republicans will participate in large numbers in the county tour scheduled for Tuesday, according to reports reaching headquarters today. The caravan of automobiles will leave Rushville at 8:30 o'clock and the first meeting will be held at Milroy at nine o'clock. There the motor tourists will divide, half going back up the eastern side of the county and the other half the western side. They will meet at Carthage the western division being scheduled to arrive at 2 p. m. and the eastern division at 3 p. m.

The tourists are expected to pick up recruits at each town where they stop and all of them will come to Rushville from Carthage for a night meeting at the court house.

Way will be provided for all persons who have no machines or an invitation to go, it was announced today. Earl F. Priest is in charge of this part of the arrangements and those who wish to go may notify him and he will find a place for them in some machine.

Paul Spivey will accompany one division and will give whistling solos at each stop and a colored quartet composed of the four Flower Brothers will go with the other division to sing some campaign songs.

George M. Barnard, of Indianapolis, formerly a member of the Indianapolis public service commission, and Edgar Bush of Salem, former lieutenant governor of Indiana, are the speakers who have been assigned to Rush county for the tour. One will go with one section and the other speaker will travel in the other section, making political speeches at each stop.

Not many political meetings are scheduled for the remainder of the campaign. The republicans will center all of their efforts following the county tour on the closing meeting of the campaign on Monday afternoon, November 6, when Senator James E. Watson will speak here. He will go to Newcastle from here and close the campaign there.

Senator Watson, who has been speaking twice daily in the state for three weeks, turned his efforts to the aid of republican nominees

RUNS INTO STANDING CAR SOUTH OF CITY

Machine Driven by Robert G. Goodin
Collides With One Belonging to
Indianapolis Man

BOTH ARE BADLY DAMAGED

Two automobiles were badly damaged on the New Salem pike a few miles south of Rushville about midnight Saturday, when a machine owned and driven by Robert G. Goodin of this city and a machine owned by C. E. Harman of Indianapolis met. According to the information received, the Harman machine was standing still in the middle of the road, and the Rushville machine was coming toward this city, and as several machines were passing the place, the driver failed to notice the machine standing in the road on account of the glare of lights.

Both machines were badly disabled, and had to be brought to this city for repairs. The occupants escaped with only slight bruises and cuts.

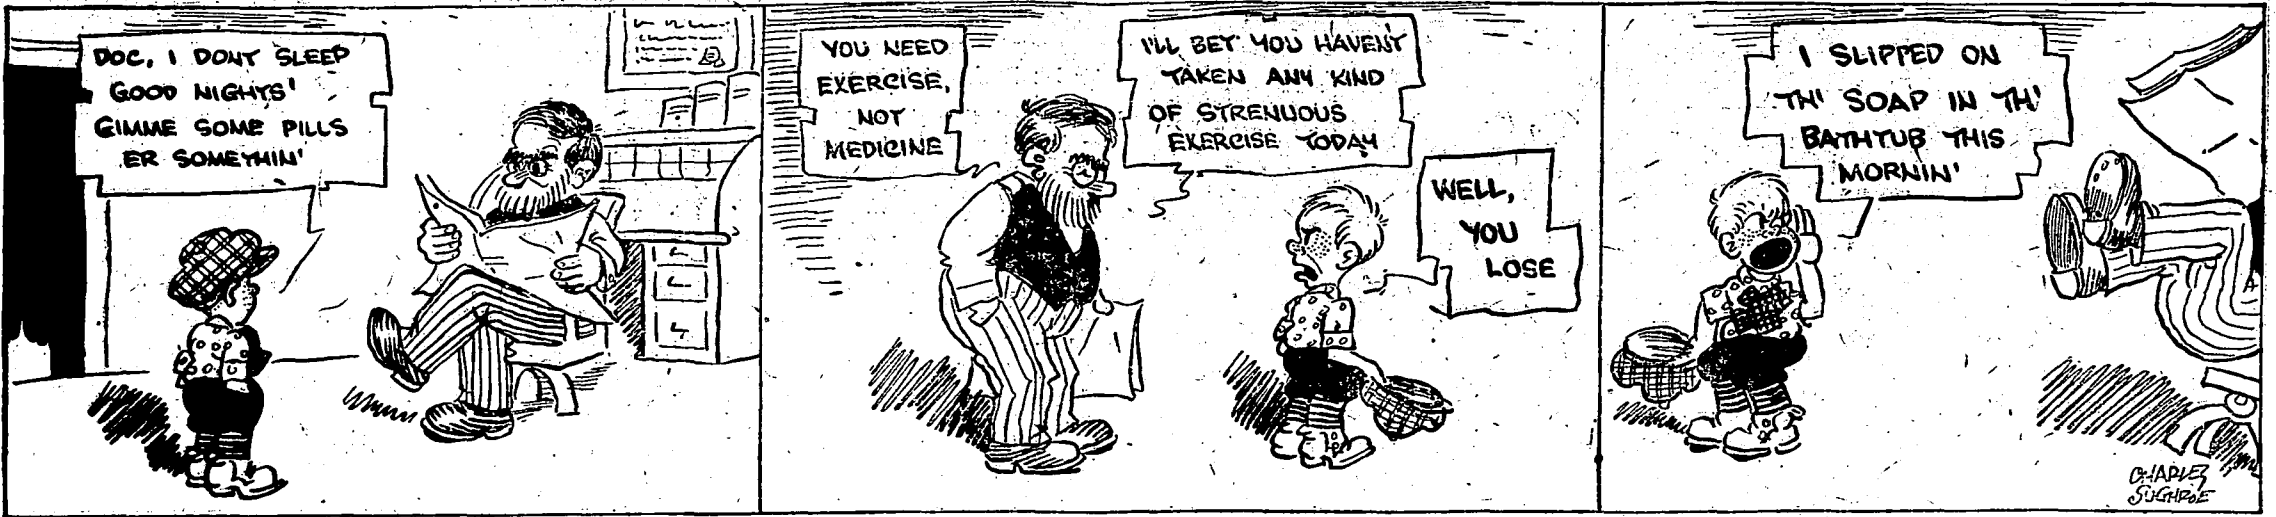

In the Rushville machine with Goodin were Earl Hall and Horace Warth, and several people were with Mr. Harman, who resides at 1110 North Keystone, Ave., Indianapolis.

"Hell and Maria!"

President Harding and General Daws are close friends, and the general is constantly singing the praises of the chief executive.

Daws went to New York recently and in the course of a "Hell and Maria" speech characterized congress as a "conglomeration of cowardly pusses"—and congress frothed.

Then he dashed off and dined with the president.

Now the president is out in a statement in which he lauds the work of congress as the best yet, a veritable mountain of constructive achievement—and congress simpers.

Does this disprove the ancient theory that "great minds run in the same channel?"

Chickens come home with painful results at times.
